

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

GOTEC is an international partner to companies in the automotive industry for protective electroplating, machining, stamping and assembly of metal products, surface treatment of plastic and metal products for rubber bonding and technical production of plastic products by injection moulding including assembly.

Protection of the natural environment is an important part of the company's policy resulting from a conscious responsibility for the environment.

As an integral part of the company's business activity, GOTEC complies with all requirements, provisions and expectations of the customer relating to the produced parts and protection of the natural environment.

While developing its activity, the Company continuously strives to protect the natural environment. All employees and members of the company as well as the suppliers and customers are involved in actions aimed at environmental protection.

In order to insure environmental protection, GOTEC implements the adopted policy through:

- continuous improvement of the Environmental Management System,
- compliance with legal requirements and any other provisions,
- all company decisions are made after checking their compliance with the environment protection policy
- cooperation with other agencies in matters related to environmental protection
- planning production with the lowest possible use of natural resources and the lowest possible environmental impact caused by wastes
- the use of environmentally-friendly technologies,
- the use of environmentally-friendly substances,
- pollution and environmental emergencies prevention policies
- a continuous improvement process designed to address risks and chances to ensure our implemented Environmental Management System complies with the ISO 14001 standard requirements.

The Company management board guarantees that resources will be available for implementation of the Environmental Management System Policy. They conduct regular reviews of its effectiveness, continuously support the improvement of the system and ensures that the policy is well known, well-understood and respected by all employees of the company.
